COOLIDGE TALKS OVER SHOALS PROBLEM AS SENATE HEARINGS ARE BROUGHT TO AN END

BOOZE BLAMED BY DOTHAN MAN WHO SHOT YOUNG WIFE

Virgil Murphy Admits He Slew Spouse At Their Home

AFTER PINT HE PLANS MURDER

Woman Shot To Death On Own Door-Step, He Tells Officers

(Associated Press)

DOTHAN, Ala., Feb. 2.—Virgil Murphy, 30, is in solitary confinement at the Houston County jail here, facing charges of having shot his young wife to death with a shotgun at their home near Kinsey last night.

Murphy is reported by officers as having confessed to the shooting, which they characterized as being one of the most brutal crimes in the history of the county. The accused man was arrested late last night at the home of a friend where he was found asleep.

Officers reported shortly after bringing Murphy to the jail here that the man had confessed to killing his wife while under the influence of liquor. Murphy's statement, as reported by county authorities, follows:

"My wife and I had been having quarrels for several weeks. Yesterday we went to the home of her father and on our way back, continued to quarrel. I stopped in Dothan and bought a bottle of liquor and drank about a pint. Last night the fuss continued and when my wife went out of the house for something I made up my mind to kill her and then kill myself.

"I secured my shotgun and went to the door. My wife was standing on the steps. I cocked my gun, pointed it at her and fired. I think the shot hit her in the chin. I stood over her for a few minutes and when she struggled, I fired the other shot into her body. I went back into the house to get another shell to kill myself, but could not find one.

"I then went down the road to Jim Smith's house to get a shell but could not find one there, and I laid down across the bed and went to sleep.

"I was drunk and I cannot recall all the facts, but I believe I would not have killed her had I been sober."

Murphy re-iterated his intention to kill himself if he could "secure the means." A close watch is being kept over the prisoner.

The dead woman was Murphy's third wife, friends of the couple said today.

Injured Child Is Improved Today

James Owens, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen J. Thomas, who was painfully injured yesterday when struck by an automobile was improved today and was regarded as out of danger.

Negro Woman Falls Dead At End of Speech

A negro woman, whose name is given as Brooks, Hartselle resident, fell dead at the close of an impassioned missionary address, delivered at a Hartselle church, Sunday. It was learned here today. The woman died before medical assistance could be brought.

It is declared that the woman had just finished an oral appeal to the membership of her church, asking that they aid in the work of the Lord, and was in the act of sitting down when death came. It is thought that heart failure was the cause of death.

DAVIDSON RETURNS

W. V. Davidson well known local business man, has returned from Wilmington, Del., where he went as a special officer for the state of Alabama to return a prisoner wanted here on a charge of embezzlement.

Mr. Davidson was loud in his praise of the courtesies extended him by the officers of the Delaware city and of the co-operation they gave to him.

CIVIC CLUBS PLAN TO ENTERTAIN FOR MAGIC CITY FOLKS

Hubert, Alabama Star, Will Be Among The Visitors

JOINT SESSION IS TO BE HELD

Advisory Council To Be Appointed By "K" President

Plans will be completed Wednesday for the entertainment of Erskine Ramsay, leading state Kiwanian and Thad Holt, chief of Alabama Junior Commerce bodies, who was expected to arrive Thursday afternoon and to speak at the joint gathering of the Albany-Decatur Kiwanis and Junior Chamber organizations. The meeting is scheduled for Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

The meeting will mark the first public activity of the Junior Chamber of commerce of these cities. The organization, recently perfected, has been working along quietly in an effort to take the place of the senior chamber which some months ago ceased to function. The Junior organization went on record at the first official meeting as favoring the appointment of an advisory council from the Kiwanis club and the gathering is likely to bring about the appointment of that council by A. A. Jones, president.

Mr. Ramsay and Mr. Holt will lead a delegation of possibly fifteen Birmingham people into these cities. Included in the visiting crowd will be "Pooley" Hubert, chief cog in the Alabama offensive and defensive strength on the gridiron for the past year. Tram Sessions, another Alabama luminary of past years is likewise expected as well as a number of prominent Birmingham figures in Junior Chamber activities.

The Ladies of the Eastern Star will serve a dinner to the two clubs beginning at 6:30 o'clock. It is proposed that Mr. Ramsay will address the organizations jointly, while Mr. Holt's talk will be made chiefly to the members of the Junior body. The party is expected to arrive in these cities about five o'clock, making the trip overland.

INFANT DIES

Funeral services were held at 11 o'clock this morning at Behel cemetery, near Hartselle, for the infant of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Murphree. The child died Monday evening at eight o'clock at the residence of the parents, 1619 Fifth avenue South.

Today:

By ARTHUR BRISBANE. (Copyright, 1926 By The Star Co. For Albany-Decatur Daily.

PROFITS on the Pennsylvania Railroad for one year reach a "peak" for all time, more than $100,000,000.

This, and increasing railroad profits everywhere, should gain friendly hearing and better pay for railroad workers.

To raise the pay of millions of men would cost hundreds of millions a year. But that is the scale we are now geared up to, nationally, and the hundreds of millions would be poured back into general prosperity, the railroads getting their share.

NEW YORK STATE now takes seriously the thought that it is bad for the state, with rope, electric chair, or lethal chamber, to set the example of killing. Capital punishment may be abolished entirely, except only for the murderer serving a term of life imprisonment. He would be executed.

HARRIS ADDS TO HIS TWIN CITY HOLDINGS, BUYS BANK ST. LOT

Filling Station Will Be Erected At Once, He Announces

STORE ALSO MAY BE CONSTRUCTED

Prominent Man Shows His Faith In This Community

R. N. Harris, prominent local resident, and already the owner of a number of valuable pieces of property in the Twin Cities, has acquired the lot at the intersection of Lee and Bank streets, Decatur, and plans to make improvements at an early date.

The lot, directly opposite the Brock and Spight wholesale company's three story structure and just north of the Louisville and Nashville freight depot, is at the beginning of the Decatur business district and in a section which already has experienced considerable development and is expected to undergo further improvement.

Mr. Harris plans to erect on the southern extremity of the lot a handsome and modern filling station, which will sell Woco Pep, giving that company its second filling station in the Twin Cities.

Work on the new station probably will be started at an early date. Asked regarding a report that he would also erect a brick store building adjoining the station, Mr. Harris declared he had something of that nature in mind, but that no plans have been formulated for the mercantile establishment at this time.

Mr. Harris is one of the North Alabama citizens possessing utmost faith in this section and he is backing his faith with his money, having made extensive investments in Albany-Decatur during the past two years.

The Bank street lot was purchased from an estate, the heirs of which are scattered. The sale was made through T. M. Dix, prominent local realtor.

Malone Returns From New York

S. H. Malone, district manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, returned last night from the annual meeting of managers and officers of the company in New York. Mr. Malone stated that unusually good reports were made from all sections of the country at the meeting.

A $100,000,000 "Peak." To Abolish Killing. All Metal If Any. The Oxygen Booster.

PUBLIC executioners are less proud of themselves than they were. New York's new electric executioner does not wear a mask, as was proposed, but his name is not published. To make a job disgraceful is the first step toward abolishing it.

THE new executioner, whatever his name, shone brilliantly in his first attempt. He killed Emil Klatt and Luigi Rapito in nine minutes, including tightening straps, throwing the switch and all.

Rapito, who murdered Asa Kline, quarrelling about a woman, went to the chair accompanied by Father Cashin, first shaking hands with all the sixteen men in the death house.

Klatt pointed out two death house men as "squealers," with whom he would not shake hands.

PAYMENT OF BACK POLLS THOUGHT TO BE A NEW RECORD

500 Individuals Said To Have Paid For More Than Single Year

2039 REGULARS REPORTED HERE

Receipts At Hartselle Still To Be Added To The Total

Payment of back polls in Morgan County this year probably established a record for all time. Tax Collector J. H. Hill stated today that final check of the exact number of polls payments had not been completed, but he believed that at least 500 individuals have paid polls for more than two years, some of them paying as high as 20 years and many for more than ten years.

Mr. Hill's records today showed that 2039 payments had been made here for one year. This does not include the payments made to Mr. Wiggins, in Hartselle, the latter having been furnished with a receipt book for the convenience of persons residing in that community.

This report probably will be received here during the day and Assistant Collector Frank J. Davis today was engaged in the task of completing the check of voters.

"I believe that more back polls, at least, have been paid this year than ever before," Mr. Hill said. "I know that more back polls have been paid in 1926 than for any year since I took office. I was surprised at the number. Many citizens paid $25 and more for the privilege of voting this year."

"A large number paid only for two years. It will be recalled that 1926 was a light year for polls payment there being no general election last year."

Following completion of the tax office report and the finishing up of the registration period, reports will be forwarded to the probate judge's office. There the two lists will be checked against each other and a list of qualified voters prepared and published.

GROUNDHOG FAILS TO SEE A SHADOW

Pretty Weather Is Due Interpretation Of Ancient Forecast

The groundhog, tripping forth from his winter lair at high noon today failed to see his shadow and, according to the common interpretation of the ancient means of forecast, pretty weather is due for six weeks.

The sun shone brightly during the early morning hours but more than an hour before the time for the arrival of the groundhog, the sun retreated behind an overcast sky and at noon, the zero hour, Ol' Sol was conspicuously absent.

Believes He Has New Egg Record

E. H. Nelson, Sherman street, Albany, believes he has a record for January in obtaining 290 eggs from 14 hens during the month. Mr. Nelson declared he did not know how many of the hens were laying during the month, but basing on an average for 31 days the 14 hens produced an average of over nine eggs per day. This is said to be an exceptional record for the month of January.

SENTENCED

Henry Pietrucha, 17-year-old boy who murdered a peddler, was sentenced to serve fourteen years in the penitentiary. The court had hoped for a hanging verdict for the youth.

BODY FOUND NEAR RAILROAD TRACKS

Fractured Skull Leads Officers To Believe Train Hit Victim

(Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM Ala., Feb. 2.—The body of Harvey Bills, 30, was found beside the railroad tracks at Shannon mines, near Bessemer, by a train crew today. His skull was fractured and evidence pointed that death was instantaneous. It is believed that Bills was struck by a train.

Coroner J. S. Crow, of Bessemer, was notified shortly after the man was found. The body was discovered as the train crew passed the scene about four o'clock. Bills' skull had been crushed by some terrific blow, it was stated.

The theory that Bills was struck by a train some time during the night is being investigated by the coroner. Bills worked at the Shannon mines. He is survived by two brothers.

Fence Saves Train From Auto Crash

The iron rail fence, parallel with the sidewalk about the union station probably saved Louisville and Nashville train number two from an automobile crash late Monday. The car had been parked by Officer J. M. West of the Albany police department, at the sidewalk on Railroad street, near the Hilda hotel.

The car, while unoccupied, began moving and picked up momentum on the hill as it travelled, finally jumping the sidewalk and crashing into the iron rail fence. The Louisville and Nashville train was standing in the station at the time.

SENATOR SMITH TO BRING NEW BILL IN HOUSE WEDNESDAY

Heflin Declares He Will Oppose And Call For Vote

POWER INTEREST TO RENEW BID

Louisiana Solon Is After Distribution In Own State

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Muscle Shoals problem was gone over today with President Coolidge by Russell Bower, a member of the Muscle Shoals commission, and Chester Gray, now legislative agent of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

They declined to reveal the exact nature of their conversations.

Bower was one of the majority of the President's commission, which recommended leasing of the Muscle Shoals properties, with government operation as an alternative. He often has emphasized the necessity of providing for fertilizer production.

He also is identified with the farm bureau federation.

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Senate agriculture committee was notified today by Senator Smith, South Carolina, that he would call up his Muscle Shoals bill at an executive session tomorrow and urge its adoption. Senator Smith said he would trust in approval of his bill instead of the house resolution which would turn over the lease of Muscle Shoals to a committee.

The committee previously agreed to vote on the resolution at 11:30 tomorrow and Senator Heflin Alabama declared he would make a point of order against the Smith motion and insist on a vote. The Smith bill would provide for the distribution of power in other states and for experimentation on a large scale on the process of making aluminum.

Eton H. Hooker representing the Hooker-Atterbury interests as bidders for the Shoals told the committee that if joint congressional committees were created to accept proposals they would renew their bid to operate Muscle Shoals on a partnership basis with the government mainly for the production of fertilizer.

"The principal discussion lately has been away from fertilizer and more toward power" Mr. Hooker said. "I think the main thing the Shoals should be used for is to help the farmer by the production of nitrogen for fertilizer. 9000,000 tons of nitrogen for fertilizer is being taken from the soil annually and only 5-1-2 million tons is being put back. This means that 3-1-2 million tons is vanishing each year and will have a serious effect on the country unless more nitrogen is available."

Edgar Wallace, representing the American Federation of Labor declared that water power should be maintained by the government the same as navigable streams and that hydroelectric development was also in its infancy. He declared a monopoly probably would exist if private interest got hold of the supply.

L. H. Davis, of the Union Carbida company declared that J. A. Switzer, the professor from the University of Tennessee, was in error when he said his company did not protest the issuance of power permits on the Tennessee River and its tributaries at the Federal Power commission hearing at Chattanooga recently. He said a special hearing was held for him and he filed a protest.

Senator Randsdale, Democrat, Louisiana said that his state was anticipating the exhaustion of natural gas now used to produce electricity and that it would be depending upon power from the Shoals for its industry.

12 Years Ago

From the Daily of
TODAY February 2, 1914

No arrests have been made yet in the Poole store robbery, although bloodhounds have been trailing suspects.

Hon. W. W. Callahan today announced his candidacy for congress from the Eighth congressional district.

The bodies of Samuel and Houston Landman, who were killed at Oak Grove Saturday, passed through here today enroute to Huntsville for interment.

J. A. Buttrey will leave Saturday for New York.

J. C. Norwood was in Sheffield yesterday, enroute to Russellville on business.

Evangeline Booth, national commander of the Salvation Army, is reported seriously ill of chronic appendicitis. The entire Christian world hopes that her life may be spared to continue her great work.

William Mitchell, ex-colonel, has launched his first attack on the air policies of the government, since becoming a civilian. "I am going through the country," Mitchell declares, "north, south, east and west, and believe I shall accomplish more good for the national defense working from outside the service than I have by working from within." Everybody should be satisfied now.

IF BRALEY'S SENTIMENT ONLY WAS APPLIED IN BUSINESS WORLD

Berton Braley recently wrote a few simple lines but expressing a sentiment that, if applied by every man to his business, would revolutionize the nation. Braley's lines follow:

We're All Good Pals Together
"Business is business," but men are men
Loving and working, dreaming,
Telling with pencil or spade or pen,
Roistering, planning, scheming.

"Business is business," but he's a fool
Whose business has grown to smother
His faith in men and the golden rule,
His love for a friend and brother.

"Business is business," but life is life;
Though we're all in the game to win it,
Let's rest sometime from the heat and strife
And try to be friends for a minute.

Let's seek to be comrades now and then,
And slip from our golden tether;
"Business is business," but men are men,
And we're all good pals together.

Braley's contribution expresses, probably as well as given by anyone before, what members of the Kiwanis and similar organizations like to think their club strives for.

The public frequently wonders what these so-called luncheon clubs exist for and wherein is the essence of good that makes men stick with them. There it is—"we're all good pals together."

COUNCIL PLANS TO DISCUSS PAVING OF SECOND AVENUE AT FRIDAY MEETING

The Daily understands that the paving of Second avenue will come up before the council Friday evening for discussion. The question has been with the council some time now and the time is approaching when a settlement will be effected, the aldermen believe.

Many took the position, and probably rightfully so, that to have torn up the street this fall, when agitation for the paving was started, would have worked an unnecessary hardship on the merchants operating on that principal thoroughfare of Albany. Weather conditions soon will be most favorable for the work and The Daily is informed the aldermen plan to take advantage of this fact.

This decision will be most acceptable news, not only to the business men of the avenue, but to the general trading public. Unfortunately Second avenue has come to be the roughest surfaced street in the city and the announcement that the council will take steps to remedy that condition will be received with public commendation.

FOREIGN TRADE GROWS, ALABAMA SOON WILL BE ABLE TO REAP HER SHARE

James A. Farrell, chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, in his call to the 1926 convention, to be held in Charleston, S. C., in April, professes to see a revival of foreign trade on a scale which existed before the outbreak of the world war.

This viewpoint, shared by others in equally as good position to judge, should prove highly interesting to Alabamians, for soon this state will be in position, with the completion of the state docks project at Mobile, to share in this expansion.

"This is the period which bids fair to see the restoration of international trade to the volume it held before the outbreak of the World War," Mr. Farrell says. "The world did more work last year than it did the year before, and its trade grew correspondingly. Expanded production and importation of raw materials by the great industrial nations of both hemispheres indicate further expansion of production and consumption for this year."

The Mobile project will help South Alabama immeasurably, but it will help North Alabama almost as much. It will provide all of North Alabama's great industrial section with an easy outlet to the ports of the world. Its importance grows with the increase in foreign trade.

KANSAS ADOPTS NEW PLAN FOR ISSUING OF PAROLES IN THAT STATE

Kansas, one of the pioneer states, now threatens to lead the way in prison reform. The problem of legal punishment is as old as history. First accounts of the government of man are concerned with the question of punishment, and now we find ourselves still debating the old problem.

In Alabama, Governor Brandon is being criticized severely on the one hand for issuing so many pardons and paroles and being besieged, on the other hand, by numerous applications for additional executive clemency. It is the fate of every governor, in this state and others, but Governor Ben S. Paulen has added a new feature to the discussion which might prove worthwhile.

A dispatch in The Christian Science Monitor says: Kansas criminals applying for paroles have no chance to obtain them unless they guarantee to reimburse their victims, according to a new mandate laid down to the state pardon board by Gov. Ben S. Paulen.

Those who have good records in the state penal institutions may obtain paroles only if they, by the installment plan, pay back to those they wronged the cost or amount of property they illegally obtained. Failure to meet installments will mean revocation of the paroles.

The Kansas plan, obviously, is not broad enough to take in all kinds of crimes, but so far as it goes, it gives food for considerable thought.

VACCINATION ALMOST COMPLETED IN SCHOOLS OF MAURY COUNTY NOW

The Columbia Herald reports that the work of vaccinating the students of schools in that county almost has been completed after a rather indifferent start, during which time it became necessary for officials to "go to the mat" with some who insisted that vaccination was not only unnecessary, but that officials did not have the authority to force it.

The same question was raised this year in Morgan county, but through a fortunate handling of the case, the objectors finally were convinced that vaccination was of prime importance in the defense against the spread of smallpox and that the health officials did have authority to either vaccinate, or prevent the students failing to permit vaccination to be barred from the schools.

The co-operation of the school authorities and the health workers during those trying days was splendid and now, after the issue, The Daily hopes, has been settled beyond any further controversy, it is well to extend to these officials the expression of appreciation which is due them.

Viewed from one angle, it might appear that forcing vaccination is interfering with one's personal rights, but looked at from the broader view of community good, compulsory vaccination is just one of the privileges which are permitted by the individual for the sake of the community good.

Despite the claims of Bernard McFadden and a few others who insist that sunshine and fresh air will accomplish miraculous results, vaccination is the surest preventive yet discovered. Many authorities insist that if every person was vaccinated, there would be no smallpox. Surely that is an objective worth trying for, and a condition worth making some personal sacrifices for.

WHAT AGENCY IS CAUSING TROUBLE WITH THE RADIO FANS LOCALLY?

Finding the cause of "local interference" with radio reception is no simple matter, it now develops. After exhaustive investigation of possible causes in the electric light lines, Manager Garner Pride, of the Alabama Power company's Albany-Decatur operations, says the electric lines are not responsible.

The Stewart-Warner company issues a bulletin blaming "moonlight" for some of the disturbances in the United States, and now the radio engineer of the Louisville Courier Journal charges regenerative sets may be, at least partly, responsible. It seems to be a question of taking your choice, but the Louisville story is interesting, if nothing else. It follows:

Repeated complaints by owners of powerful, multi-tube radio sets in many cities who have tried ineffectually to pierce the barrage of squeals and whistles radiating from regenerative receiving sets indicate that this form of interference, more than any other, has thwarted attempts of many to hear foreign stations this week. J. Emmett Graft, radio engineer of WHAS, the broadcasting station of the Courier-Journal and Times, said here today.

Very thorough tests on radiation of various types of receivers, he said, have brought out these two important facts: All types of straight regenerative sets will radiate energy if allowed to oscillate. Operators of other receiving sets cannot do anything to eliminate the interference radiated from regeneratives sets.

The only solution of the problem, therefore, Mr. Graft said, is for owners of regenerative sets to operate them so they will not oscillate. This is a simple operation, he asserted, and when mastered will result in much more satisfactory reception from the operation of the offending set as well as to reduce interference for himself and everybody in his neighborhood. Explaining how to operate a set so it will not radiate, the radio engineer said:

"Picking up a station by 'getting its whistle' and then tuning in the signals, whether music or speech, is the prevalent method. This causes the howls. The better way is to turn down the rheostat which controls the detector tube, and the volume control, whether the latter be a tickler, plate variometer or any other method controlling regeneration, thereby preventing the set from oscillating and then picking up the signals instead of the carrier wave, which causes the whistle."

"Quality reception nearly always is sacrificed by the 'whistle' method of operation because the receiver, when oscillating, responds to only a very narrow band of sound frequencies so that only the middle tones of music are not distorted. As a result, poor reception is the reward of the operator, and he is radiating interference which mars reception for his neighbors for blocks around."

MISSION MEETING

All officers of the Woman's Auxiliary of the First Methodist church met on Monday at three o'clock in the afternoon at the church with Circles 2 and 3 tied for record attendance.

Mrs. D. D. McGehee opened the meeting with the devotional. Her subject was "Progress in the Christian Life." Mrs. George Williamson, the president of the society then conducted the business hour when reports were heard from the circles which showed a splendid beginning of the year's work. Other reports were given by committees and plans for future were made.

Mrs. Williamson was elected delegate to the annual conference to be held at Athens February 16-18 and Mrs. W. H. Ritter as alternate.

Mrs. S. D. Johnson the vice president was then heard with reference to the Belle Bennett Memorial fund.

The meeting closed with prayer offered by Mrs. J. S. Robertson.

AUXILIARY MEETS

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church met on Monday afternoon in the ladies parlour of the church for the annual election of officers. The following officers for 1926-1927 retained and elected were: president, Mrs. F. S. Hunt; vice president, Mrs. Emmett Himes; secretary, Mrs. Robert Ford; treasurer, Mrs. E. P. Kingsbury. The following were elected as secretaries of causes: Spiritual Life, Mrs. C. K. Lide; foreign missions, Mrs. Estelle Baker; home missions, Mrs. Will Wyker; Christian education and ministerial relief, Mrs. Garrett; Synodical, Presbyterian and congregational missions, Mrs. B. F. Austin; social service, Mrs. W. M. Voorhies; young people's work, Mrs. Frances Himes; secretary of literature, Mrs. Robert Ford and Mrs. E. P. Kingsbury.

Plans were then finished for the week of prayer that is being observed this week for foreign missions. There will be an all day service for prayer and study of foreign missions on Thursday at the church. The study will be chapters from the book "Prayer and Missions." At noon a lunch will be served.

CHAPTER XVI. (Continued)

In America they are rarely accomplished. The dominion of Paris and the diplomat from London are not unaccustomed to ignoring the barrier between them when occasion arises. It is an extraordinary hostess, in America, who can successfully bring together all grades of society, not rich and poor, so much, as the good and the not so good.

Yvonne Coutant was one of these. She had no scruples when she opened her house, as to who came into it. She demanded only beauty, external grace, and a willingness to be an appropriate picture for the shining, golden frame she provided.

"One simply cannot afford not to be in on one of Yvonne's affairs," Mrs. Brownley-Smith, of the Polo crowd, repeatedly said. "One's husband is sure to be there, and so is his favorite of the moment. I always go in order to discover who Tom's loving now. It's the only way I have of checking up on the fluctuations of his taste."

"Yvonne's own latest former husband, Alfred Coutant, the novelist, never missed her entertainments. 'I get at least four chapters from every one of them,' he would explain. 'She's awfully good to let me come—sort of jolly like, you know.'"

So it was that an interesting company moved about among the roses and lilies and daffodils that decked every corner of the spacious house with fragrant baskets of thick, flaming carnations relieving the paleness of the throats of the men. And so it was that Joanna stood, arms outstretched that she might realize the line and symmetry of them, before the long mirror in her dressing room, upstairs. The slim body of hers was vibrant with memories of the day and eagerness for the night. In her eyes were all the ecstasies.

Supper Party. Mrs. C. W. Williams had as her guests for supper on Monday evening Misses Frances Burt Clara Randolph and Pauline Vaughn.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pitt and family spent the weekend with relatives in Lawrence county.

New Method Quickly Banishes Heavy Coughs

Why be annoyed and weakened by persistent, strength-sapping coughing spells when you can, through a very simple treatment, quickly stop all irritation and very often banish the trouble entirely in 24 hours?

This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed-time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. Thus, with the throat soothed and cleared, coughing stops quickly and you sleep all night undisturbed.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for had spent more than a tenth of her million dollars. It was all tallied in the cancelled checks.

"The play begins! It is to be a comedy, after all!"

It was said quietly, evenly, but there was just a nuance in the tone that might have been repressed exultation. The speaker stood behind the banker, a figure in faultless evening clothes, silk hatted, white gloved. About his lips played the wealth of a smile—a cynical smile. In his eyes there was amusement. Just at that moment an ancient butler appeared at the library door and spoke:

"Your car has arrived, Mr. Brandon."

Brandon started. "You will be seeing her, tonight, then?" he asked calmly.

"Yes. She will be plunged into the abyss tonight, by her new friend, Yvonne Coutant. She will swim like a sinuous mermaid through the sordid senses of half a score of old men whose lips she'll moisten with the sight of her, and

"You mean the girl, of course. But why are you challenging me with her?"

She looked up at him, steadily. She spoke softly. There was no trace of bitterness, or even accusation, in her tone, but there was something feline in it. "I believe you are going to tear this girl to pieces, if you can. Whether it is because you do not approve the bizarre method someone has used to lift her up, and you merely want to pull her down, I don't know. I think there is something stronger than that in your mind. But I am of the opinion, my dear, that it won't be so easy!" When she paused, she turned away from him slightly. There was a tinge of color in her pale cheeks.

"You are absurd," Brandon said evenly. "And, I think, just a bit piqued. It is a delightful mood. If one of us should make the girl unhappy, I fancy it is more likely to be you than I."

She gave him a bright smile. The color had gone from her cheeks, and she was taunting again. "Now you are accusing me of the possibility of jealousy. I'm never jealous, my friend. Not even of you. I served you willingly in luring her into my keeping. Teddy Dorninister and Roddy Kenilworth already are devoted to her. Teddy has assured me he's willing to trade all his married women, in one grand bunch, for her. And Roddy declares that she is more refreshing than champagne. So you must admit I'm generous. Two of my devotees already are at her feet. And you are hovering about them. I shall—"

She paused. For some reason she decided, suddenly, to both light a cigarette and point toward the cabinet where glasses and bottles were. "A bit of wine, please," she commanded. When he had brought her glass she said:

"You were about to say something interesting. Finish it."

"I was about to add that probably I shall learn some things I really want to know, because of Joanna, but they will be interesting. Come. It is time she made her entrance. Everybody has had just enough to drink to fully appreciate her."

Together they passed into the reception foyer. Through the wide swinging doors, in which palms were barked, strains of dance music floated down from an orchestra hidden on a miniature balcony that crowned one end of the high ceiling room reaching off on either side from the upper landing of a broad, handsome stairway that sloped down majestically into the drawing room itself. "A woman always looks her best when she is descending a stairway," was one of Yvonne's pet assertions. She had had this one especially built into her house.

At the fringe of the dancing crowd in the larger room Dorninister and Roddy Kenilworth talked together, both men searching the throng of guests for their hostess. Lord Teddy spied her, and Brandon, immediately. Both asked for Joanna when they had hurried to pay their compliments. "A little pause," Yvonne remonstrated. And she admonished them: "There must be no stealing her away for selfish confidences. I want her to know everyone, tonight."

Brandon touched her arm. "Here is someone who will make his own rules, perhaps, about an hour alone with her," he said, indicating a young man, who had just delivered his hat and coat to the doorman and who, evidently a stranger in a strange house, seemed not to know what to do with himself.

Yvonne did not know the newcomer, and looked at him curiously. Like the other men, he was in evening clothes, but in his manner was that intangible something which betrays the one whose full dress is only an occasional ceremony. Always quick with her appraisals Yvonne decided in a flash that the stranger would not be one, if he were cornered, with whom a woman might safely play. She was amused with herself, however, for admitting such an idle reflection, and puzzled by it.

Brandon, who had greeted the other, brought him to her for presentation. "Mr. Wilmore," he said. "You have heard me, and, no doubt, Miss Manners speak of him."

APPLYING HEAT OFTEN HELPS BACKACHE

Temporary Relief Obtained by Use of Either Wet or Dry Heat aids the Victim While the Underlying Cause Is Treated.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DURING the past Winter there have been an unusual number of cases of lame back, following colds, mild or severe. Various names have been given the symptom. It has been called neuralgia, neuritis, rheumatism and lumbago.

It makes little difference what name is given any painful ailment. It hurts and that is enough to make it important to the victim.

Along the backbone and across the hips are a great many muscles, some large, some small. Each of them has muscle cells and fibres, delicate coverings and nerve supply, making a finished product which will perform its functions perfectly if kept in perfect health. Unfortunately a mechanism so complicated is liable to disturbances.

Neuralgia of the nerves supplying a muscle is called "myalgia." Inflammation of the muscle tissue is known as "myositis." No matter what its form or name may be, any disturbance in the back muscles will produce about the same set of symptoms.

There may be a dull ache, or a sense of stiffness. This may be noticed only when the muscles of the back are called upon for some action. Sitting down, attempting to get up out of bed or out of a chair, trying to put on the shoes or to turn over in bed—any movement or attempted movement which calls the back muscles into play, will be followed by discomfort, if not actual acute pain.

In pronounced cases, the pain is constant. Even though the victim may keep perfectly quiet, the back aches and throbs with pain. There may be violent cramps.

You know the causes of rheumatism, at least the popular causes. Exposure to cold or wet is a common one. Overexertion, or hard lifting, or reaching upward for a long time—these are common causes. The trouble is more likely to be brought on by overexertion if the body is overheated at the time.

All these causes, or any one of them, may bring on the symptoms we are describing. It is usually the case that the sufferer can recall exactly what was done to bring on the attack.

Certain diseases may have chronic backache as one of the symptoms. Among such are gout, diabetes, anemia, kidney disease and hardening of the arteries.

Sometimes the wearing of wrong shoes will cause trouble. If the heels are too high or too low, there may be wrong posture and much strain in consequence.

For the pain, heat gives great relief. Hot fomentations, or hot water bottle will help a lot. Capsicum vaseline and a harmless liniment are irritating enough to cause you to overlook the pain of the ailment. On this account such applications assist considerably.

DR. COPELAND.

Senator Smith To Bring New Bill In House Wednesday

trial operation. He declared he favored power distribution in the neighboring states.

Senator George, democrat, Georgia, declared the House resolution should be amended to provide that power not used for fertilizer manufacture, shall be distributed by the lessee under regulations, with a provision for its recall, if it should be needed for fertilizer.

If a private lessee is to have free use of the power, he would make a minimum amount of fertilizer and recoup his losses in the use of other power and there would be no incentive to produce cheap fertilizer.

Dan McGugin, representing the Tennessee Manufacturers Association, declared his association favored amendment of the house resolution to provide that all power not needed for fertilizer should be distributed in Alabama and the adjacent states, but they considered the production of fertilizer for the farmers as more important than the distribution of power.

He suggested that the nitrate plant be leased for one dollar a year to a lessee, who would be given free power to produce nitrogen.

He declared some of the private interests bidding for the property would use all of the power for their own uses unless they were prevented.

W. J. Parkes, of Pine Bluff, Ark., representing the chamber of commerce of his city, and state, declared that power would permit the establishment of industries in Arkansas which would relieve the present situation of 65 per cent of the population being forced to engage in agriculture pursuits with only three per cent employed in manufacturing industries.

He asserted it would be better for the welfare of the state if some of the farms were abandoned and the people allowed to go into industrial employment.

Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, introduced into the record a telegram which he received from Benton McMillan, A. A. Roberts, T. C. Rye, former governors of the state and B. D. Bell, former justice of the

RANKIN WILL HELP HOSPITAL DRIVE

Pre-Campaign Work Is Rapidly Being Finished

Marvin Rankin is the most recent arrival in the ranks of the Hospital campaign enthusiasts. He threatens to burst loose upon the hordes of workers on the opening night of the campaign, Feb. 11, with new inspiration, new songs, and new energy.

All members of the executive committee have practically abandoned their private interests to wind up pre-campaign solicitation and prepare everything for the opening day. A small number of fair sized pledges have already been added to the campaign coffers but the executive committee refuses to make public the names of the donors without their consent.

The men's organization is still only one half enlisted. Commanders and captains are being urged to fill up the ranks. In the women's organization there exist less than twenty vacancies out of a personnel of 212. They are leading by far in organization progress.

Progress in the counties though slow, is making headway. A pleasant and encouraging surprise to the hospital's friends came yesterday when L. C. Hightower of Athens consented to serve as honorary chairman of the Athens contingent of hospital supporters.

Sale Of Timber Lands Announced

Sale of timber on the J. F. Cain place, near Somerville, to Bond Brothers was announced here today. The exact figure involved in the sale was not made public. It is understood that Bond Brothers will own the growth of Tupelo Gum in this section, over a tract of several hundred acres. It is declared that the work will take the company approximately two years. Crossties will probably be the product made from the timber yield.

ATE TOO FAST

South Carolinian Took Black-Draught For Indigestion, and Says He Could Soon Eat Anything.

Ballentine, S. C.—Mr. W. B. Bonknight, of this place, gave the following account of his use of Theford's Black-Draught.

"Just after I married I had indigestion. Working fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable. I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief. Bloating, sensations, eructations, bad breath and other common symptoms of indigestion have disappeared after Black-Draught has been taken for several days.

WILD CATS WIN

Wild Cats handed the Machine Shop a goose egg in bowling last night at the Y. M. C. A. Score was 4 to nothing.

Geo. Jackson, Sr., showed 'em all how to find the head pin as is seen by scores of 151, 150 and 164 he made. That is pretty consistent bowling.

Tonight the Bear Cats will bowl the Engineers.

Big League Changes Announced As Time Nears For Donning Uniforms

With the passing of the ground hog and the promise of six weeks good weather, big league chatter is waking up, with the consummation of numerous deals among the big top outfits.

"Bullet Joe" Bush and Johnny Lohin, members of the St. Louis Browns will go to the Washington Senators, champions of the American league, in exchange for Tom Zachary and "Win" Ballou, hurlers of the Washington staff. No money was involved in the deal.

Nick Cullop, crack hitter of the Southern league champs, Atlanta Crackers, goes to the Yanks after being farmed to the Southern league for seasoning. Cullop's wallowing power has made more than one pitcher withdraw in disgust and it is believed that he will be an equal power in the big tops. Nick is famous "or the same stunt that Babe Ruth has been quarreling about ever since he cracked out his record of 59 circuit smashes back in the days when Ruth was Ruth and was not suffering from an expansion of hat band.

Joe Glick, who treated Johnny Dundee to a lacing recently, after Dundee had declared that he was up to taw and could not be defeated by the youngster will get a shot at the world title. Dundee evacuated the title some months ago at the time he dropped the padded mits. He then took one more shot against Glick and lost. In the meantime the boxing commission had picked a successor for the fighting Italian and now Glick will have to click off another win before he is regarded as champion. The lad has possibilities, one of the best in the ring today, but he will have to do some fast stepping before he is able to point to an expansion of chest.

Kiki Cuyler, outfielder of the world champion Pirates is having trouble getting his contract signed as he wishes. Kiki is in position to tell the Pirate chiefs what he wants and more than likely the Pirate heads will come to terms. Players of Cuyler's ability do not blossom forth every day and when managers get a chance to grab one of his type it is seldom, if ever, that they turn loose.

Heleen Wills has won again. The American tennis champion has defeated the best on the other side of the water with the exception of Suzanne Lenglen, world's champion. Mademoiselle Lenglen no doubt will give the youthful Miss Wills a chance so soon as the American decides to play as Miss Lenglen sees fit. Champions are that way and cannot be blamed for holding on to hard-earned places.

A movement is under way at Montgomery for the forming of a professional summer baseball league to include the Capitol City, Albany, Pensacola, Jacksonville, Savannah and Columbus.

When it's your favorite table at the restaurant—and with merry friends you chatter and feast in festive revel
—have a Camel!

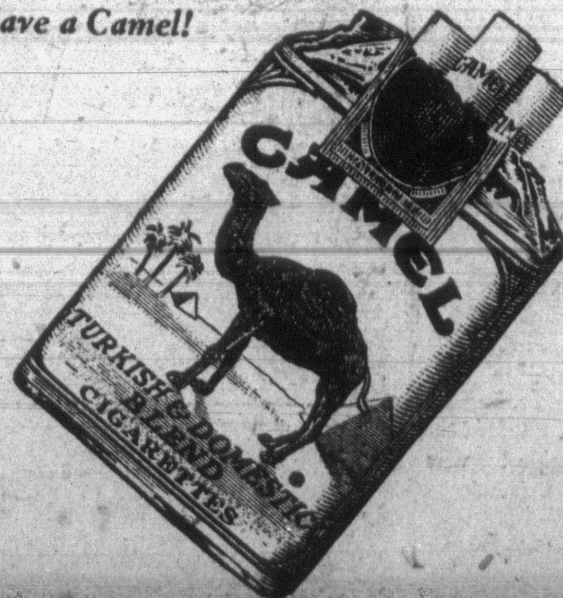

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. The most skilful blending. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No better cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

WHEN you sumptuously dine at your favorite cafe. And with joyous talk and laughter you taste the tempting things of earth. When with lilting strains of music and the prime of fine foods you feast your friends joyfully—then how welcome is that friendly saying, "Have a Camel!"

For Camel goodness heaps added zest to every festive dinner, shares of its own joyous taste with every delicious flavor. Camels never tire the taste or leave a cigarette after-taste, because they are the master blend of the choicest tobaccos grown. Regardless of price, no other cigarette made is so rich and fragrant, so smooth and mellow mild as Camel.

So this night as the famed restaurant grows gay with the sounds of merry-making and revelry. As you claim your own rightful share of the bright joys of living, taste then the flavor, the mellow fragrance of the finest, cheeriest cigarette ever made.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.
